Dear John and Brian,

With reference to the disassembly and shipping of various production machines from Univel to several GKN sites.

We are all aware that the disassembly and transportation of the machines are very complicated due to its size and weight, however in spite of this the work performed to date have been carried out without any safety concerns.

The digital photographs detailing the various stages of the de-commissioning process will be of great assistance to the GKN receiving sites.

Furthermore, the service engineers from E- Mag and Ex-Cell-O have confirmed that they are extremely happy to work with your team as they have received their full co- operation and support at all times. They both confirmed that you have a very competent team.

Please continue to communicate with the various GKN sites in order to comply with their requirements in respect of rust protection, labeling, packing and lashing and the type of containers to be used.

Thank you for the regular feedback on the status of the project.

Wishing you success to complete the project safely.

Kind regards

Romeo Louw
General Manager
